THIRD ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

The Board of Managers are able to present a very encouraging Report of their third year's operations. The whole work testifies to God's blessing. Thanks to Him for it all!

The work has progressed quietly, steadily, satisfactorily. While never able to enlarge the work beyond its present scope, as at first we had hoped to do, there has been little financial strain in carrying that work along. As the need has been, so has God sent the supply. We accept not only gratefully this token of God's care but hopefully the evidence of deepening interest on the part of the community. The home has been constantly full. The average number in the family, has been larger than heretofore. Nearly all have come without the persuasion of the meeting. Their deportment in the house has been on the whole more satisfactory than we have before witnessed. A much larger number have been placed out in good situations, or restored to their families, and the proportion of abiding reform is decidedly larger.

We believe that the experimental season of our work has passed. We may claim to show a proven, practicable work. To God, whose has been the grace, be the glory!

Of those restored to their families, and placed in Christian households in the country, some, as will be the case, always, have disappointed our hopes. A per centage of failures, even after leaving the Home, is a part of the sifting work; the last shaking out. So far as we can tell, after carefully looking over the records of the year, and consulting the correspondence that has been kept up between the Matron and Lady Managers and the girls, this per centage of relapse is decidedly smaller than in either of the preceding years. The majority, we believe to be continuing steadfast. Some we know as most satisfactory evidence to be proving the genuineness of their reformation. The number restored to their own homes and families is peculiarly gratifying. Three women have been restored to their Husbands. In these cases, as indeed in almost every case, Intemperance was the master passion.

FACTS, INCIDENTS.

During the past year a respectable man applied at the Home for information concerning his wife, who had left him, and whom he thought had finally sought the shelter of the Mission. At a low drinking house, near by, the wife was found. She had been drinking hard for two weeks. She had been once at the Mission. Going after her, some of the ladies brought her over to the home. There they met, husband and wife! There the ladies talked long and earnestly with them. The husband had been in the habit of taking something occasionally. They were urged to sign the pledge. He hesitated. Kneeling in prayer, one of the ladies supplicated strength from on high for them both. Surely it came! They both signed the pledge, and returned home together. Not only did he prove faithful, but she, the fallen one, has, through sore temptation, proved steadfast to her vow. Even when sick and urged to take some liquor as a stimulant, she replied she would "rather lie on her sick bed than rise to run such a peril again." They have since been doing well, and have once more a happy home. This woman had been a saleswoman in one of the leading ladies' dress and trimming stores.

During the year we had in the Home a ladylike woman, the widow of a physician, who had two sweet, little children. Her parents were intemperate. This was also her sort of weakness. She, we believe, is doing well.

A young woman engaged at one of the principal dry goods establishments, came to the Home. She had been sick; had been ordered liquor; had formed the habit of taking it, and finding the love of it gaining powerfully upon her, she came to be "Straightened up."

M. M. NOTES.

A. S.—Left the Mission about two years ago, she was a the home provided by the manager one year, she left at the end of that time to be married to a steady man.

A. D.—Went to a place from the Midnight Mission over two years since, and has been married over a year, and is doing well. Her husband, a respectable carpenter, was made aware of her former life by herself.

E. Y.—A poor, unfortunate girl, very fine looking, with a mild, placid face, left the Mission nearly two years ago. She showed signs of conversion, and her subsequent career, although under rather adverse circumstances, has proved her change of heart. She has been married to a man who was first made aware of her past history by herself.

Y. N.—Left the home about a year ago, and has been subjected to many temptations, but still she remains firm. She is engaged to a genteel, steady man, who was informed of her former life, but who will marry her now.

A girl was admitted to the house the past year, who was one of eight sisters, all prostitutes, undoubtedly from miseducation.

P. N.—Was brought from England by her intemperate father, unknown to her mother and sisters, at the age of eight years. She first provided money for her father, to satisfy his thirst for drink, by singing in a low saloon, and latterly prostituting herself. She was sent back to her family, who were first written to, and she has written back informing a lady manager of her safe arrival, with thanks to all interested in her.

Y. A. Y.—A foolish girl, quite attractive in appearance, aged 17 years, was enticed away from her widowed mother, by the usual promises of the procuress of a beautiful home and gay clothing, and an endless round of gayety. She came to the Mission, after two weeks sojourn in the city. Her mother was written to, and she is now living with her. We hope she is "a brand plucked from the burning."

A girl came in who had been drinking, and while asleep on a cellar door, in one of the slums of the city, her companions sheared her of her beautiful jet black hair. They sold it to quench their thirst for rum.

The following extract from a letter of one of the Lady Managers, gives a fuller account of the case referred to in the above notes.

* * * * "You remember P. N. She came into the Mission soon after it opened, remained a short time, and then went into the country, where she gave great satisfaction to her employers. She was the first girl who left our Home to make an honest living, and many were the prayers that followed her to her new abode.

I would here state that an intemperate father had brought her from England to this country, when only eight years of age. Her early associations had been of the worst kind, and she naturally learned to love the intoxicating cup.

Notwithstanding her determination to lead a new life, and the improvement which lasted for some time, when thrown with former companions she again fell into her old habits.

It was her desire, as well as that of those who longed for her salvation, that she should leave this country, but there was no certainty that any of her family were living, as she had not heard from them for eighteen years. A letter sent to their old place of residence, reached a sister still residing there, and an answer of love and welcome came across the waters, to their long lost sister. It was ascertained that a brother, three sisters and an aunt, were all ready to receive her.

Her photograph was sent on, in order that she might be recognized, a comfortable outfit prepared, and under the escort of our kind Matron, she left for New York, where she took passage in a steamer bound for Liverpool.

She was there met by her brother, and she has since spent part of her time in his family. In a letter written by her aunt, to one of the managers, she says: "My Dear Mrs. —, I hope you will excuse the liberty of writing to you, I know you will, when I tell you I am P's aunt Lucy, her mother's sister, and I return you many thanks for the kind interest you have taken in her. I can tell you that your labors and prayers, along with the prayers of others, has not been in vain. I feel thankful to God that she is spared to us in the land of the living, though not a child as she was, when her father took her away from us, when that poor heart knew no sorrow. I am glad to tell you that the house of God is her delight, and she has a strong desire to live and act aright. Amidst the temptations, trials, hardships, and disappointed happiness, which of us could say we could stand and not fall? Accept my kindest regards and many thanks."

Thus has this brand been plucked from the burning, through the humble instrumentality of the Midnight Mission.

I can sincerely say that taking it as a whole, it is the most encouraging work that I have ever been engaged in. It brings us in contact with so many souls, who otherwise might never hear the voice of mercy the offer of free salvation.

It is such a privilege to seek for jewels for the Savior's crown. Too long have they been buried out of sight, and left in the hands of the enemy. "Many are the souls struggling for life eternal, to whom would be sent the cheering words, "Daughter, thy sins be forgiven thee," were there more faithful messengers to convey them."

When we consider that four are without doubt in Heaven, should we not rejoice?

I have often thought of your words, the first evening the home was opened, "No matter how many disappointments we have, we are never to be discouraged."

One fact is very strikingly suggested in these notes of our Record Book. It is the corroboration in our midst of the fact Dr. Acton, in his work on prostitution, has declared of English cities: viz, the gradual reabsorption of a considerable proportion of this class into respectable society by marriage. This fact speaks loudly the feasibility of restoring fallen women. It also urges powerfully the necessity for such efforts. This last class is not merely an ulcer eating into the body. Its tissue is to some extent reconstituted into flesh. Our work however humble, is thus helping on the social assimilation of the bad into the good, the success of which in all departments, is the great problem of philanthropy.

MEETINGS.

The Thursday evening Meetings have been held regularly through the year, during winter and summer. The attendance has been small in comparison with the first year. When their novelty was still an attraction. They accomplish the object of bringing the truth to bear on some of these poor slaves of sin: and the House is as we desire it should be, filled by those coming without solicitation.

Services have also been held on Sunday evenings. The Bible Class on Sunday for the inmates of the Home, has been regularly continued, as also the other religious exercises of the house.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Our cordial thanks are due, and they are hereby rendered to our efficient and worthy Matron, Mrs. Phoebe Brooks, to whose faithfulness and ability so large a share of the success of the Mission upon the inmates is due. To the several clergy, who have kindly addressed the meetings during the year, and not least to the Physicians in such wise and faithful charge.

The thanks of the Board of Managers are hereby extended to the Rev. W. Percy Brown, for the able Sermon delivered by him at the Church of the Holy Trinity, in December last, in behalf of the Mission. The result of which netted over Five Hundred Dollars.

THE FUTURE.

1. We want urgently, earnest hearted, wise co-laborers. Our hands are tied up with the present work. Will not some Christian gentlemen, for our dear Lord's sake, help us to carry our Meetings into other sections of the city? The taste of locality and class is strong amongst these unfortunates. We ought to hold occasional meetings in other parts of the city, where this evil hides itself away. Shall we be helped to do it?

2. We want to secure our Rent, $750 per annum. Will not some one blessed with the ability that God giveth, assume this, and thus place us at comparative ease and security?

3. We want to make our Home more attractive. Pictures, games, books for the library, papers for the table would be most acceptable. Who will subscribe to some attractive paper? Who will send us a Cabinet Organ? The one we have had the use of for three years, through the kindness of Mr. Gould, is no longer in our parlor. We scarcely know how to get along without one.

4. Above all we want a Country Home. Our House is in the midst of the haunts of sin. The girls dare not go out. Temptation is at the very door. From our windows the sights of evil are flauntingly displayed. Our walls have actually been scaled and girls abducted. The health of the girls suffer. The change from a wild life of constant excitement to a quiet in-door life without open air exercise, is too great. That which renders our House admirably adapted for a temporary Reception House (all we designed it for,) disqualifies it for an educating, reformatory Home. In addition to it we need a House somewhere near the city, providing opportunity for healthful cheerful activity, removing the girls from the constant sight and smell of Rum. Wm. Bucknell, Esq. has offered $5000 for this purpose, conditioned on our raising $5000 additional. Shall we be able to avail ourselves of this generous offer? Who will answer it for us?
